Professional profile

I am an experienced C# and SQL Programmer with a strong record of delivering high-quality software solutions at Woodstar Software since 2021. My work spans farm, packhouse and airport systems, combining development with project leadership, client communication and on-site implementation.

Before entering software development, I spent several years travelling and teaching internationally, following roles in customer service and education in the UK. This background shaped key strengths that I still rely on today. Clear communication, adaptability, resilience, problem solving and an organised, client-focused working style.

I manage multiple projects simultaneously, maintaining accuracy, meeting deadlines and ensuring solutions are delivered within scope and budget. I bring strong attention to detail, a technical mindset and the ability to explain complex ideas to clients in a clear and practical way.
